Steve Hamilton is the New York Times bestselling author of The Lock Artist, the Alex McNight series, and the Nick Mason series – which is currently in film development with Lionsgate. Steve has had two New York Times Notable Books of the Year, won two Edgar Awards, one for Best First Novel and one for Best Novel of the Year. In the UK, he won the Ian Flemming Steel Dagger for Best Thriller of the Year.

A local author, Steve lives with his wife and two children across the Hudson River in Stone Ridge. Many of us have dreams of goals of what we would like to do, but work an entirely different job. For 32 years, Steve led a double life, working at IBM during the day and writing at night while the family slept!
