

Livingston Free Library Summer Newsletter 2017

A familiar face at the Livingston Free Library, but in a different job description. As of May 1st, 2017, Wendy Tremper Wollerton is the Director of the library.

“

In May 2017, Wendy Tremper Wollerton was appointed Director of the Livingston Free Library. Prior to this, Wendy served as library clerk for 4 years at the Livingston Free Library. In this position, she planned a variety of programs and worked to update the library website.

Wendy is originally from Red Hook, and lived in the Town of Clinton before moving to Livingston in 2011. After many years as a Medical Laboratory Technician, she opted to change careers to the more people-oriented field of libraries.

Wendy began her library career in the Town of Clinton, volunteering every Tuesday morning for 2 years at the Clinton Community Library. This small-town library had staff for the afternoon hours, but relied on volunteers to fill in the morning hours.

Then Wendy went on to work at the Millbrook Free Library for 4 years. Here, Wendy worked both the children's and adult circulation desks, and assisted in programs for each age group. Wendy also took courses offered by the Mid-Hudson Library in a variety of subjects: cataloging new items, managing the monthly calendar of events on the library website, inter-library loans outside the MHLS system and how to help patrons find information.

Additionally, Wendy worked for 4 years at the Clinton Community Library. Working in this small-town library involved many responsibilities, including the circulation desk, cataloging new items, helping patrons to locate items, and the monthly movie night.

Wendy was also employed at Cornell Cooperative Extension of Dutchess County in the horticulture department. Wendy's main role was to teach the Master Gardener volunteers how to research questions from a problem-solving horticulture hotline. She also taught plant, insect, and disease identification.

“Livingston is such a wonderful community, I am glad to be an active part of it.”

Wendy

Come visit us at the Columbia County Fair!

The Columbia County Libraries will have at a booth at the Columbia County Fair. The fair is from Wednesday, August 30th to Monday, September 4th. Each library in the county will be represented at the fair. Livingston Free Library will be manning the booth on Thursday, August 31st from 9:30 am to 3:30 pm. There will be a demo on how to navigate Zinnio, the online periodical site on each library's webpage. Using Zinnio, one can get access to a variety of periodicals, including Consumer Reports, by simply using your library card. There will also be a trivia contest for both children and adults. Come visit us!