Pieter Estersohn, author of Life Along the Hudson: The Historic Country Estates of the Livingston Family will talk about the research and history of some of these homes. This book features three dozen country homes, many overlooking the Hudson River, and offering some of the finest examples of American architecture and landscape design. These homes are constructed on land owned by the influential Livingston family who settled in the area in the late 17th century. Many of these homes have been restored to their former splendor by the original owner's descendants.

An acclaimed photographer of architecture and interiors, Estersohn's work appears frequently in major magazines, including Architectural Digest.

Come join us to hear about the history and design of some of these local homes which are located in Northern Dutchess and Southern Columbia Counties, including the Town of Livingston.
