

Columbia Pathways to Recovery Rotating Collection

The Columbia Pathways to Recovery is a collection of books and DVD's that is sponsored by the Columbia County Library Association. The items in this collection are about addiction and substance abuse. The material is appropriate for both teens and adults.

This collection is sent to be displayed at each of the eleven libraries in Columbia County. This collection will be at Livingston Free Library until the end of May. Each year new material is added to this collection, suggestions are welcome.
