Animal tracks and signs, the oldest writing on earth will open your eyes to the stories animals leave as they live their lives around us. It will change what you see during your next walk or hike.

Pat Liddle is a student of and lover of nature. Pat has studied tracking with Sue Morse, who started the citizen science of Keeping Track; George Leoniak of the The Mindful Tracker; and Josh Woods of Flying Deer Nature Center.

Pat hopes to open your eyes and minds to the nature stories around you. After 20+ years of studying tracking, there is always more to learn.
