

How to Create Winter Interest in Your Garden

Thursday, October 28th at 7PM

To register for this online program email:

Livingstonlibprograms@gmail.com

From March through October, you have constant color in your gardens and property. Springtime bulbs are followed by flowering shrubs and perennials, brilliant color annuals and fall foliage colors of your trees and shrubs. Then winter comes and what is there to look at as you drive down your driveway or look out the window?

Wendy Tremper Wollerton will show some suggestions on how you can make your property attractive 12 months of the year by planting certain shrubs, trees or adding some "hardscape". Wendy is a former Horticulturist at the Cornell Cooperative Extension of Dutchess County where she worked with Master Gardener volunteers in the horticulture lab.

Livingston Free Library
90 County Rt. 19
Livingston, NY 12541
Livingstonlibrary105@gmail.com
515-851-2270